GenFest 2009

Written by David on June, 13 2009

The Strand helped host the 2009 Genealogical Society Convention - GenFest. We provided entertainment that was suited to the attendees on both Friday and Saturday night. The registration for the event was in the Strand Cabaret area. During the registration hours, there were images of old Shelbyville and Shelby County projected on our screen. Included in these images was a commercial from 1925 for the Chambers ovens. Also included was a 1937 look at every day life in Shelbyville filmed by "Doc" Barnett.

Below Strand Volunteers Janet W., Elizabeth F., Rhonda S. and Debbie E. take a break during the tour at Forrest Hill Cemetery. This tour was one of the many activities provided for the GenFest event.
