Chiaroscuro

Formed in the summer of 2009, Chiaroscuro (formerly Skyline Transmission) have been writing and rehearsing for an eventful 2010. In January, Chiaroscuro recorded a full-length debut with the super badass John Congleton. Soon after, they signed to Future Recordings to release their self-titled debut. Tour plans for the summer and more happenings to come!

Metavari

Metavari are an instrumental rock-trio from Indiana, formed in the Winter of 2006 by members, Nate Utesch, Andrew McComas and Ty Brinneman. The contrast of digital elements, like laptop programming and synth processing, along side organic rock arrangements and vintage equipment create the multi-layered compositions that have given the act national attention. Visualizations and archived footage are edited along side each arrangement and videos are projected live. Metavari have shared the stage with notable acts in their genre such as Unwed Sailor, Maserati, Yndi Halda and Early Day Miners, and toured briefly with Lymbyc Systym, This Will Destroy You and El Ten Eleven.

Sonoro(us)

Sonoro(us) started as a three piece in the spring of 07, or more accurately, Sonoro(us) started as a humble recording experiment done by gentlemen tired of playing redundant church music (no offense intended) in a room that echoed way too much. Band members, Matt Taylor, Travis Wilcoxson, and Landon Williams decided that despite a rough recording, they had found something worth pursuing
