Strand Theatre Weekly Email ? May 7, 2010

Written by David on May, 7 2010

Flowers are blooming, grass is growing. There is magic in the air?..and at the Strand. Tonight we welcome magician Kyle Marlett from Las Vegas. He will be performing his magic on the Strand stage starting at 7:00. There will be a matinee performance at 2:00pm on Saturday. Come out and have an evening of illusion and fun.

Saturday night the cats at Shelbyville High School will be on the stage with their annual SHS Jazz Band Concert. This group will play music from the big band era and beyond. They play all your favorites plus newer jazz and swing charts. Come enjoy an evening of Big Band music at the Strand. The performance starts at 7:30pm.

Time is ticking on our Frankenstein Switch (warning, tech talk ahead). After diligent work to arrange the pieces of the puzzle, our electrician Steve Dennis has officially announce we will upgrade our electrical service soon. The front (east) part of the theatre runs on the original (that is 1916!) electrical box. It looks like something in Frankenstein's lab. It sizzles and all that good stuff. Not for long, it will be a part of history to which we look forward to saying goodbye. It rates right up there with the sticky balcony floor we had to clean. There are several things that are critical for the process to work. One of which is the ability to have someone crawl in the rafter space above the auditorium and help guide the new conduit. Fortunate for us, our college student board member Cody V. is skinny and flexible. What a treat he will have getting to places rarely seen in the Strand. We will write about the process as it unfolds, but for now it is on the schedule for May. That is a good thing too, since we need to get the service changed so that we have enough power to light our marquee. Everything is connected at the Strand. (nice pun, we know).

Start thinking about Tara. Gone With The Wind is on the horizon, May 21st - Dinner and a Movie. Tickets are selling fast, so please get yours before they run out. We have seating for 80 at dinner. There are plenty of movie only tickets.
