This week...

Written by David on October, 4 2010

This week we have lots of things...the first is not in the Strand but is all about what we do.

On Oct. 6th, the last Wednesday for the Farmers Market, Vicky Richmond will perform on the Public Square, and the Waldron Performing Arts Boosters will do a fundraising Chili Supper. There will be tables and chairs for people to hang around and enjoy the music, while supporting performing arts in the community. This will all take place during the farmers market, which of course still offers plenty of locally grown produce, pumpkins, decorative corn and gourds, eggs, baked goods, and more.

On Friday the Shelby County Arts Fest kick-off concert at the Strand Theatre with Kurt Schakel will start at 7:00pm. There will be a reception by Indiana Downs before the performance.

On Saturday during the day the Shelby County Arts Fest will take place on the Public Square, The Grover Museum, The Gallery, The Shelbyville-Shelby County Public Library and much more.

The SCAF comes back to the Strand for "Light Up Shelby County with the Arts! lamp auction followed by readings from the Spoon River Anthology. After that Tim Spradlin with the Rush County Big Band take the Strand stage at 8:00pm.

Lots to do! Visit Shelby County.
