Shelby Community Band: April 3, 2011

Written by David on March, 4 2011

The Shelby Community Band will be joined by The Brassworks for a FREE concert on Sunday April 3, 2011.

Join the Band at the Strand for familiar music and the addition of a very talented group. The concert starts a 2:00pm.

The Brassworks

The Brassworks is a group of diverse individuals held together by a love of music. The group was formed about 23 years ago when some members of the Tipton Community Band decided to get together to play brass quintet music to sharpen our skills. No one thought that the group would ever perform for the public, much less make a second CD.

We have performed on many and varied occasions including church services, weddings, church regional conferences, fund raisers, charity events, the Tipton County Pork Festival and in concerts with area high school bands. We discovered very early that the cheaper we work the more work we get. We have stayed true to that creed by never charging for a performance. We do, however, VERY GLADLY accept free will donations to cover the cost of music and transportation and will always work for food.

The group has undergone some personnel changes over the years as have many such organizations. Ralph Achenbach on Trombone, Bill Maynard on Trumpet and Louis Wolford on Trumpet are the three original members still active. Ken Schulenburg on Bass Trombone, Charlie Rose on Alto Flugelhorn and Bill Rowe on Tuba and, now, Justin Webster on Drums complete the current roster.
