Comedians Chick McGee, Jeff Bodart and Jeff Oskay

Written by Gary on May, 30 2012

CHICK MCGEE

Born in London, Ohio. Chick began his broadcasting journey in West Virginia but eventually made it to WFBQ's sister station in Indianapolis.

When they had enough of him, he came on the Bob and Tom Show to do sports, take on announcer and commercial duties and assume the role of the one and only Mr. Obvious.

Jeff Bodart

Since starting stand up in 2001, Jeff Bodart has been making a name for himself performing in comedy clubs across the country. He has appeared multiple times on the nationally syndicated radio show, The Bob & Tom Show.

He has released a new comedy album in 2012 entitled "They're Still in the Can" and it can be heard on Sirius/XM satellite radio. You may have seen Jeff on the Comcast Cable network as well as The WB.

Jeff's style is so relatable you will feel you know him. Being the youngest in his family has prepared him for a life of comedy. His animated and goofy demeanor combined with edgy quips covering his dating life, working out, his favorite food of cheese sticks, and the fact that he could never be on "Survivor" makes for some great laughs for anyone watching his show.

Jeff has been fortunate to be able to bring his comedy to the comedy festivals: The World Series of Comedy, Laugh Your Asheville Off and was also invited to perform at the Cape Fear Comedy Festival.

Jeff has worked with a lot of the top comedians in the country such as; Greg Behrendt, Ron White, Bobcat Goldthwait, Harland Williams, Tommy Chong and Caroline Rhea.

Be prepared to love and become a fan of Jeff's once you have experienced the fun.

Jeff Oskay

Jeff has made finding faults in himself and others an art form. Through his tales of "Bad Life Choices", he shows us that we are all human and that we should all laugh at ourselves. Whether you're eighteen or eighty, you will find his comedy accessible and hilarious. Along with comedy, he's divorced, has a child, always take the easy way out, and once had a day job where he did nothing but slice fruit for nine hours straight every day, seven days a week. He also appeared on the B&T album "Crushed Nuts" and cohosts a podcast, The Interweb Podshow. Jeff is also a contributing writer to the nationally syndicated Bob and Tom Show.
