Mars Rover Update

Written by David on August, 12 2012

The Strand Theatre hosted a event dedicated to the landing of our new Mars Rover, Curiosity. Curiosity is the largest Mars Rover yet, roaming the desolate Gale Crater. The one- ton rover is currently determining if the Red Planet was once ever habitable. Recently, Curiosity spent the weekend transitioning software to enable itself to do simple tasks with ease. On Thursday, Curiosity sent back its first 360 degree picture of Gale Crater- in high- resolution color. No other Rover n the martian surface has ever sent back a picture in high- resolution color.
