Golden Ticket Productions and The Strand Theater introduces a very special concert, SERIOUSLY SINATRA. National touring artist RUSSELL MOSS and the STARDUSTERS JAZZ ORCHESTRA join forces to create an intimate and fun musical event featuring the music of Frank Sinatra and the timeless songs associated with Las Vegas and the "Rat Pack" era.

Recreating the swinging sounds of the big band era as well as classic tunes from the Great American Songbook, the STARDUSTERS JAZZ ORCHESTRA is popular regionally and performs concerts throughout Indiana. Founded and led by JERRY JEROME, this outstanding ensemble also brings the bold and brassy big band sound forward and into the future. The musical conductor for this special show will be JEFF ANDERSON, well-known throughout Indiana as a bandleader and as a lead trumpet player.

Singer, actor, writer, producer, and comedian RUSSELL MOSS is originally from Los Angeles California where he began performing at the tender age of 5. He has literally performed all over the country, including Las Vegas, Nashville, Branson, and in New York City. "Russell's style is highly reminiscent of the most popular big band entertainers of old, yet his fun and impromptu connection with the audience is remarkably fresh and timeless," says Brad Zumwalt, owner of the Palace Theatre. If you enjoy the exciting sounds of a LIVE orchestra and the intimate styling's of an entertaining and expressive big band singer, you won't want to miss SERIOUSLY SINATRA.
